“Since I opened the shop 11 years ago I have been looking for a wine from California that I could drink everyday; versatile, easy to drink, and NOT an alcoholic bomb (a wine that puts you to sleep after one glass.) A few weeks ago in a NYC restaurant, Fiamma to be exact, I met Owsley Brown, the young owner of Ukiah Cellars. Ukiah is making great wines with a real “table-wine” attitude; wines meant to be part of everyday life...friendly, delicious, and NATURAL. I couldn’t believe my ears...this man was saying all the right things, and the proof was in the glass! Finally, a wine for wine drinkers... like me!”

-Laurent Chapuis

Deep in the heart of the Mendocino Valley, Ukiah owner Owsley Brown and winemaker Steve Ryan are creating some of the most appealing, everyday-drinking wines that California has ever produced. A blend of sustainably farmed fruit from several of northern Mendocino’s finest vineyards, Ukiah’s 2005 Cab is a wonderful, medium-bodied, fruit-forward red that can go with anything from hors d’oeuvres to a nicely marbled strip steak. Aromas of dark cherry, green bell pepper, and black pepper spice lead to a well-balanced palate with soft, lingering tannins. A real knockout that won’t knock YOU out!
